

LADIES —AND— CHILDREN

We offer extra inducements in prices now on some of our best styles in Children's Cloaks. Mothers, see how our garments will grace the figures of the little ones, and how the prices will fit your pocketbooks. There is a special value in Ladies' Coats at $15 and $20 which are reduced from higher prices, but for this limited time go at these prices. The "Bontons" Mackintosh, for Ladies, at $7, and the "York" at $6, are the newest thing in this line. A large stock of Ladies' fine Alaska Seal and Fur Garments.

L. S. AYRES & CO.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

And Another Isn't Needed!

The people have adopted the
WINDOW BARGAIN SALE

"Blue Monday" changed to bright Monday. In the windows after Saturday night you will see next MONDAY'S BRIGHTNESS. The children cry for it. The parents crowd for it. They are all after it.

EASTMAN, SCHLEICHER & LEE
Window Bargain Sale
Every Monday.

THANKSGIVING SALE

—AT—
ENGLISH'S BUILDING

Next to Public Library, on Meridian Street, all day
WEDNESDAY, NOV. 23, by
THE LADIES OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Turkeys, Salads, Cakes, Mince Pies, and all other things essential to a good Thanksgiving Dinner, for sale at market prices. Goods delivered free.

ENGRAVED WEDDING and PARTY INVITATIONS.

Visiting Cards and Embossed Stationery.
Correct Styles—Lowest Prices. We do all our own work in this line.
WM. B. BURFORD,
21 West Washington Street.

Glimpses of the World's Fair

A selection of 130 photographic reproductions in half tone, showing Main Buildings, Jordan Building, State Buildings, Circuits, Statuary, Lagoons, also characteristic scenes from THE MIDWAY PLAZA.

Don't fail to secure a copy—it will prove a never ending fund of interest, amusement and instruction. Sent by mail on receipt of 50c stamps or postal note.

CATHART, CLELAND & CO.,
6 East Washington Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

"Brevity is the soul of wit."

KNOX HATS

FIRST PRIZE
World's Fair
DALTON,
Agent.

THE SOCIAL PROBLEM.

Thomas J. Hudson Talks on It at the Progress Club.

Thomas J. Hudson addressed the Progress Club yesterday afternoon on the cause and effect of the social problem. He divided the world into two classes, the contented and the discontented, the rich being generally included in the former division, with the exception of a few men of means who saw the inequalities and earnestly desired their removal from an innate love of justice. The effect of the social inequalities, he said, was ignorance, want and vice. The reform to be adopted must not merely seek to alleviate the effect, but must go to the cause to accomplish a cure. The cause, he said, was either in natural laws or the customs established by humanity. If the former were the case it was useless to seek a remedy, but if the cause was of human origin it might be changed. He spoke of the church as not accomplishing its mission from the fact that the great question of the salvation of souls had too many side issues to contend with, and that the money changers who were driven from the temple by Christ were now the pillars of the church and observed by the people leads them naturally to the formation of secret societies and labor organizations for protection. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hudson took occasion to differ with the idea of socialism, saying that Plato was the first to form an ideal co-operative commonwealth, and it still remained an ideal. Mr. Hudson thought that the existing system of taxation was in a large measure responsible for the conditions. In his closing remarks he favored the taxation of land exclusively, saying, to illustrate his point, that railroads would cease to extort money from the people if no attention were paid to the value of their rolling stock or value of their buildings and they were taxed on the value of their franchise, which he construed to mean the right of way or the ground which was occupied by their tracks, with the added value of the improvement made by the fact of the tracks being where they were.

New parlor goods at Wm. L. Elder's.
New barley flakes at Van Pelt's.

RIFT IN THE CLOUDS

Marked Improvement Shown in Many of the Local Industries.

New Artificial Ice Factories—Card Company Benefited by Hard Times—Business Picking Up.

The business of the ice packers is now down to a minimum and the trade of the last few months has been unsatisfactory, the ice dealers feeling the depression as much as any business interest. A large number of their customers, as hard times come on, dropped away, yet the wagon distributing ice had to cover just as much territory, incurring the same expense. There is a considerable quantity of last year's crop of ice left over. The outlook for the firms which gather natural ice is not as promising as in years past. One new artificial ice manufactory is going up, backed by ample capital—the Crystal Ice Company, the plant to have a capacity of 100 tons a day. The plant now in operation will manufacture as much more. Another firm is being organized which will build a plant to manufacture artificial ice. All these moves tend to lessen the demand for natural ice, especially for domestic purposes.

Benefited by Hard Times.

The National Card Company reports having the largest number of people employed in its factory in its history and orders are coming in in sufficient numbers to take all the daily product to fill them. One reason assigned for this remarkable demand for cards is that there are many idle men and women who are putting in much of their time in playing cards which has largely increased the demand. Then it has become so fashionable at parties of nearly all kinds to have card playing. This, too, adds to the demand for cards. The company, however, has a large foreign demand and furnishes most of the steamship lines with their supply of cards, which is no small item.

One Prosperous Industry.

A few years ago the National Capsule Company commenced business on quite a limited scale, employing six men and women. Now the same company employs 130 men and women, and is working until 9 p. m. to fill orders, on Saturday being six million capsules behind its orders, which come from all parts of the country. The company has been manufacturing twenty-five gross of boxes of capsules a day, one hundred capsules to a box, but has increased its production to thirty gross of one hundred capsule boxes. The goods have such a reputation that the company does not need to send out any traveling salesmen.

Few Milling Contracts.

Nordyke & Marrison Company say they are still running their works with a slack force, a good part of their employees working every other week. They don't hope for much better outlook until after the holidays. Most of the flour mills report a good business on close profits. The company has a few contracts to report the past week, one new flour mill for parties in Michigan, besides a number of less important orders. The reports of the Journal made last week of the world's fair awards to the Nordyke & Marrison Company should have stated that all of the awards were of the highest order; no second or third prizes.

Begins to Look Like Business.

About the packing houses there is a good deal more activity, still the packers experience considerable trouble in keeping up their supply of hogs and are shipping them in here from long distances. Kinsman & Co. last week averaged a killing of 3,200 hogs a day, about one-half their capacity. Moore & Co., 700 hogs, about one-third their capacity, and this morning, Fletcher & Co. commenced killing five to six hundred a day, about one-half their capacity. It is thought that the weather may increase shipments to this market as better prices are paid than in any other market.

A New Sweeping Machine.

A mechanic at the Wright & Wright power house has about perfected a machine for cleaning streets which will not only sweep up the dirt, but load it into a receptacle, which is part of the machine, as swept up. The machine is much in appearance like a threshing machine. It is very simple in its construction and not very expensive, and if it does the work as expected it will be a valuable machine for cleaning paved streets. It will probably be built in two sizes, one to be drawn by two horses, the larger one by four horses.

A New Business.

Frank Fitzgerald who, with Dr. Stone, an old army surgeon and a chemist, and others recently incorporated as a company to manufacture pharmaceutical chemicals, have leased several rooms in the Shively Block, on Fort Wayne avenue, and are now beginning on a line of business, and employing but few people, they expect to enlarge and increase their number of employees, making the business a valuable addition to the industries of this city.

Increasing Their Outputs.

This morning the National starch works and the cerealine mills will begin to use new corn in the manufacture of their respective products. The quality of the new corn crop is so good that in cerealine goods the expected superior article will be turned out by using this new corn. Both industries will increase their production. The starch works will begin using about 3,000 bushels a day, and the cerealine mills from 4,000 to 4,200 bushels a day.

Demand for Gas Pipe.

Mr. Jilison, of the firm of Knight & Jilison, states business must be improving in the gas belt territory. Within the last few days the house has received orders for thirty miles or more of pipe running from three to six inches in diameter, for extensions of natural-gas lines. One order was received from the Morewood tin-plate works for four miles of large pipe to bring natural gas in desired quantities to its plant.

Furniture Making Improving.

An improvement is reported in business with the furniture manufacturers. While not as busy as usual in the fall months, stocks have been so reduced while the mills were shut down that it requires considerable new work to fill orders. That there is an improvement with this class of manufacturers is evident in the demand which has been put up of late for furniture cars to load for distant points.

Have Resumed Operations.

A. Burdall & Co. have resumed operations in the manufacture of paints, varnish, etc., with about sixty people employed, working four days of the week. During the dull times the company has put in $20 worth of new machinery, which will enable it to considerably increase the production and manufacture articles which the works have not heretofore made.

Woolen Mills on Full Time.

Isaac Thalman, manager of the Hoosier woolen mills, says that business has been a gratifying surprise. Although running on orders, they have come in a manner which has kept the factory busy, and they now have orders to keep the mills running full time and full-handed until New Year's day.

Standard Wheel Company.

The Standard Wheel Company is increasing its number of employees in its works at West Indianapolis, and has started up its branch plants at Terre Haute and Kalamazoo, and if its business continues to improve will put in operation its branch plants at Fort Wayne and Sandusky, O.

A New Residence Block.

H. Knippenberg, who purchased the Daniel Culley property on North Pennsylvania street a few months ago, is having the buildings, which are among the oldest in the city, removed, preparatory to erecting a fine brick residence block, with all modern improvements.

Largely an Export Business.

Adams & Williamson, ventering manufacturers, are doing a fair business, giving employment to sixty people. The order for works are now filling are largely for export, the demand from manufacturers in this country being unusually light.

Their Business Is Better.

Laycock & Co., manufacturers of spring beds, etc., report their business improving.

HALTED ON THE BORDER.

Melissa Harris Attempts Suicide with Morphine, but Is Rescued.

Melissa Harris, a married woman, twenty-three years of age, undertook to rid herself of an irksome existence yesterday afternoon. She swallowed a fifteen-cent dose of morphine at her home, No. 29 North West street, and then walked to the house of her sister, at No. 322 West Pearl street. Here the poison began to take effect, and the woman told the family what she had done. Dr. Weserweil, of the City Dispensary, was summoned in time to save the life of the victim. Domestic misery caused her to seek relief in another world.

HELPING THE ERRING

Mass Meeting in Behalf of Movement to Reclaim Fallen Women.

Services at the Tabernacle Church—Work Accomplished by the W. C. T. U.—The Rescue Home.

Last night marked the end of the beginning of the work in this city for the purpose of reclaiming the fallen women and girls. The work has now gone far enough to assure its friends of the success of the undertaking. The appointment of Mrs. Buchanan as police matron was really the beginning of the work, but little other than such work as she might do was done until last September, when a house was rented on Hillside avenue to be used as a home, and a room at No. 57 East South street in which to hold their religious services. The house on Hillside avenue was given up after one month's use, as it was not in a suitable location.

The pitiful stories related by Mrs. Buchanan concerning some of the cases which have come under her care spurred the ladies of the W. C. T. U. to renewed efforts, and that their good work might be given more publicity the mass meeting of last night at the Tabernacle Church was called. The services were opened by singing the very appropriate song "Throw out the Life Line" and prayer by Dr. Rondthaler, after which Mayor Denny announced the object of the meeting.

Mrs. A. F. Porter then gave a brief outline of the work which had already been done by the rescue mission and entered a strong plea for aid on behalf of the more unfortunate sisters. She said that the mission had employed Miss Smock, who has had four years' experience in the same work in Chicago, to take active charge of the work. Besides this work they expect to rent another house immediately to be fitted up as a temporary home for the girls who may be reclaimed until such time as they may be able to find them suitable employment. Miss Smock illustrated the possibilities of the work by old stories of the school readers of the brave miner who was lowered by a rope down the shaft of a mine to rescue a brother miner who had been injured by an explosion. When the signal had been given to hoist up and the rescuer and the injured miner were brought to the surface the injured man was found to be covered with soot and smoke so that his friends could hardly recognize him, but loving hands soon removed all of that, and he was again their dear and beloved companion and fellow-workman. "So it is," she said, "with these people for whom we are working. Their stain can be removed, and once more they can become honored members of society."

Mrs. J. R. Nichols then spoke of the urgent necessity of a matron at the depot to look after girls who come to the city alone. She said that on several occasions she had come home on trains arriving here about midnight, and often saw young girls get off the trains who apparently had no friends or acquaintances to meet or direct them. On one occasion she met a girl who had been driven away from her home in Ohio by her father, and was endeavoring to reach the home of her aunt in Illinois, but found, after starting, that she did not have sufficient money to take her further than this city. There are always persons around the depot ready to take advantage of just such cases as this, and the next thing heard of the girl would probably be a notice in the paper that she had been deserted by her betrayer and in her despondency, had committed suicide. She also condemned in very strong language such things as the mass murder at the Tomlinson Hall last Thursday night—the murder of many a girl on the downward road.

Mrs. Sewall spoke of the great tendency of the fallen women to become stolid and indifferent to the public opinion. She said, "It is largely due to the lack of training among our children, at home and at school, on the subject of moral purity and the influence of training is the principal cause of the downfall of the daughters of Christian parents. Mothers and fathers probably do not realize that class of women. The other 90 per cent. are the product of ignorance and vice coupled with poverty and privation, and behind it all a natural tendency, the result of ancestral sin. This class deserve more sympathy than the other class, as they have never had the advantages which good homes and education had given the other 10 per cent. This work should begin in our public schools by inculcating a knowledge of good morals in the boys and girls, the same as we teach them arithmetic and grammar."

Mrs. Buchanan spoke of the necessity of a home where such girls as she and other workers might induce to change their lives and be placed in suitable employment could be found for them.

"Man's Duty in This Work" was the subject of the Rev. Dr. Stone's remarks. He said, "The hardest thing in the world to do is to teach the women of this world to forgive a fallen sister, and to forgive a fallen sister will forgive and forget when it is a man, no matter how far he has fallen, but with a woman they are very sparing of their mercies."

"But I am wandering," he said. "My subject is man's duty. It is his duty to do the best he can to save all the girls he can to this movement, both in work and pecuniary assistance, even to the sacrifice of his own life. He should be sure that he would do all in his power to forward the movement, and said he believed he would do the best he could for the Christa men of the city when he said financial aid would not be lacking from the men."

Letters were read from the Rev. W. F. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Dr. E. E. Dewhurst, pastor of Plymouth Church; and the Rev. Alonzo Myers, pastor of the First United Brethren Church. They all expressed their regrets that it was impossible for them to attend the meeting, but assured the ladies of their deep sympathy with the work. A collection was taken, which netted $79.04, besides several regular monthly subscriptions amounting to $32.00.

Sinners' mission was organized at 57 East South street they have held regular services every Sunday and Wednesday evening Sunday afternoon. They have had about twenty-five conversions, one of them a saloon keeper, one a hotel and a bar tender, and school yesterday was seventy-three, besides officers and teachers.

STABBED IN THE BREAST.

Frank Oglesby, a Negro, Injured by Albert Carr, White.

Frank Oglesby, a colored man, living at No. 59 Archer street, is suffering from a knife wound inflicted by Albert Carr, white. Carr was arrested Saturday night, but the extent of his victim's wound was not ascertained until yesterday. The trouble occurred late Saturday night at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Liberty street, and arose over some trivial matter. Carr drew his knife and plunged the blade into the breast of his adversary and then ran. Oglesby fell and the knife entered his chest. Carr drew his knife and plunged the blade into the breast of his adversary and then ran. Oglesby fell and the knife entered his chest. Carr drew his knife and plunged the blade into the breast of his adversary and then ran. Oglesby fell and the knife entered his chest.

Marion M. Elliott's Death.

Marion Meggs Elliott, a piano dealer on Massachusetts avenue, died yesterday morning. He was a member of Encampment 90, of the United Veterans Legion, and was well and favorably known.

"Wienerwurst John" Dead.

John Short, aged seventy-two years, died at the county asylum yesterday of paralysis. Short had been an inmate of the institution for three years.

ORIENTAL ★ RUG ★ EXHIBIT AT WASSON'S BY G. K. DAVIDYAN

Will open this morning, continuing Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 28 and 29. Thirty-two bales, 1,200 pieces, of these Rare Old Rugs have arrived, and are arranged in position for the exhibit. We can truly say to Rug connoisseurs that never was such an array of meritorious gems of art offered for their inspection in this city.

Auction Sale

On Friday Mr. Davidyan will begin an auction sale of these Rugs, which will continue three days. This sale will be in our Carpet Department, third floor.

H. P. WASSON & CO.

stitution for three years. Several years ago he was the wealthy owner of a meat market in Indianapolis, and later, when he lost his possessions, carried on a small trade in the sale of winterwursts. He was commonly known as "Wienerwurst John." He has no family.

He Stabbed His Uncle.
Ed Porter, proprietor of a saloon at the corner of North and Bright streets, placed himself in the custody of the police, last night, in response to a warrant charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill. Porter stabbed his uncle, William Morris, last Friday night, in a saloon brawl. Morris is recovering at the City Hospital. The prisoner was released on bond.

Concert for Organized Labor.
At a concert given by organized labor, last night, the senior class of the Institute for the Blind rendered some highly interesting music. A large audience attended the concert, and at the close participated in a raffle for a ring, which was won by Miss Cora Johnson, of West Indianapolis. The event was under the auspices of the stenographers.

Died in California.
Mrs. R. E. Stephens, of this city, received information yesterday of the death of her mother, Mrs. E. W. Chadwick, at Santiago, Cal., Nov. 24. Mrs. Chadwick was one of Terre Haute's oldest residents, her father having built the first house on the site of old Fort Harrison. Her husband, a son and daughter survive her.

Go and hear Fred Douglass to-night at Masonic Temple. Subject, "Race Problem." Tickets 25 and 50 cents. On sale at Bowen-Merrill Company.

STERLING SILVER NOVELTIES
Batteries, Stamp Boxes, Paper Knives, Mucilage Bottles, Blotters, Foot Rules, Ink Erasers, Secret Pocket Pieces, Scarf-pin Cases, Cigar Cutters, Scarf Holders, and many other Novelties for gifts. Come and see us.

Julius C. Walk, & Son,
Successors to Bingham & Walk,
Leading Jewelers. 12 East Washington St.

MARCY'S GREAT SALE

Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Silverware, Rogers 1847 Knives, Forks and Spoons, Clocks and Spectacles. Largest, best and cheapest stock in this city.

We lead and make the prices way down. Don't buy until you see our MAMMOT STOCK and LOW PRICES.

Now is your time to select.

Christmas Presents

You can make a payment, have them laid away and pay them out before Xmas.

DIAMOND SALE A SPECIALTY.

38 West Washington St.

Queen Liliuokalina
Terence V. Powderly
The French and Italian Cabinets

Will find it a cold winter if they did not get their Overcoats before they lost their jobs. Winter is certainly here. It's a cold one. If you haven't an Overcoat, and desire a neat and handsome one made to order, properly draped, and at a moderate price withal,

Come To Us.

KARN TAILORING CO.
22 and 24 E. WASH. ST.

THE MCELWAIN-RICHARDS COMPANY

Successors to J. B. MCELWAIN & Co. and GEO. A. RICHARDS.

WROUGHT-IRON PIPE, GAS, STEAM AND WATER GOODS.

TELEPHONE 753. 62 and 64 WEST MARYLAND ST.

THANKSGIVING CARVERS.

LILLY & STALNAKER, 64 East Washington St.

Want Filler
5 Cents a Line.
SPECIAL COUPON

The Sunday Journal, by Mail, $2 Per Annum

"The Secretary of the Interior."

That's the lady of the house. Her administration makes home comfortable and beautiful in the cold, dark days of winter. The efforts of the Secretary appear in her effective use of WALL PAPERS, DRAPERIES, CARPETS, RUGS, etc. We respectfully invite her to call and see what we offer. No trouble to show goods.

ALBERT GALL, 17 and 19 West Washington Street
Agency for S. C. Johnson's Parquet Floor and Borders. Estimates furnished.